Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "run-down," "run-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve, "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapses or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendly whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alternative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "Golden Medical Discovery." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

DR. BROWER ACQUITTED.

After a trial lasting about 10 days, Dr. Frank L. Brower, indicted for the murder of his wife by poison, was acquitted yesterday at Toms River, N. J. When the verdict was announced instantly the courtroom was in an uproar. Men and women cheered and applauded in spite of the rapping for order and the court officers had difficulty in suppressing the noise. Finally when quiet was restored Dr. Brower was formally discharged. He was so overcome that he could scarcely speak.

At this point the applause was renewed and women waved their handkerchiefs, while scores of Dr. Brower's friends crowded about him and offered their congratulations. When the excitement had died down somewhat Dr. Brower shook hands with his counsel and turning to Judge Hendrickson thanked him for the impartiality of his charge of the jury.

Dr. Brower then asked permission to address the jury, and when it was granted said:

"I am thankful, very thankful, for the way you have treated me, and I hope that none of you will ever be placed in such a position as I have been.

The doctor then shook hands with each juror. As he turned from the jury men, women and children again pressed about the acquitted man, who finally backed up to a wall of the courtroom and grasped each extended hand as the crowd, shouting its congratulations, filed past him. A 14-year-old girl paused in the line long enough to kiss him. Once free of the courtroom crowd, Dr. Brower was hurried by his counsel to the street, while another crowd that had been waiting cheered and followed him as he walked rapidly toward his home. Passing the postoffice Dr. Brower saw Miss Stella McClenahan and stopped to receive her congratulations. As Dr. Brower came within sight of his home his aged mother and his little boys appeared in the doorway. The boys quickly ran into the arms of their father, who, catching them up one on each arm, ascended the steps to the house. As his head reached her level his mother threw her arms around the three.

A moment later Dr. Brower turned to the crowd which had remained at his heels throughout the affecting scene and briefly expressed his thanks for the evidence of good will. With a final cheer the crowd dispersed and the family withdrew to the house.

Last night Dr. Brower hung out the sign that had been removed from his office door, indicating his intention of staying in town instead of leaving, as he had said he would if public opinion was against him.

DRAWN BATTLE.

Terry McGovern and Young Corbett fought a hard six-round bout at the National Athletic Club in Philadelphia, last night. When the gong announced the close of the battle there was little to choose between the fighters. The fight was one of the bloodiest ever witnessed in Philadelphia.

In the opening round there was not a blow which did any damage. McGovern, profiting by his two previous battles with Corbett, took no chances, and simply danced around the ring or rushed to a clinch. At the opening of the second round Corbett rushed and caught McGovern with a terrific right on the chin, which forced the latter to take the count of nine.

When McGovern got to his feet he rushed to a clinch, and in so doing he butted Corbett over the left eye, opening a gash from which the blood flowed in a stream. From this round to the finish, the fighters were covered with blood from head to foot.

Matters grew worse in the third round. After Corbett had missed three right swings for McGovern's jaw, he finally landed a hard right over Terry's eye, opening a deep gash. Both men were well winded when the gong sounded.

The fourth round was decidedly in McGovern's favor. Time and again he would counter on the wind as Corbett rushed in and an occasional jab to the face opening the damaged eye, the blood from which partly blinded Corbett.

The fifth and sixth rounds were about even, but there was never a second that the men were idle. If go was rush, clinch, and swing from going to going, each fighter using his best endeavor to get in a knock-out blow. At the pace the men were going it is doubtful if either could have lasted two more rounds. McGovern was weakened by Corbett's blows, and the latter, who carried at least twenty pounds too much weight, was very weary from his own exertions.
